SENIORS: TOP of the NHS Pyramid!

You can bet you'll see Trace Livengood, 12, in the future! In the White House that is! You'll be "Living good with Livengood" as president!

"I am attending Fairmont State University to obtain a bachelors degree in National Security and Intelligence. After this, I will seek a career in either the CIA or the FBI."
-Andrew Maltba, 12

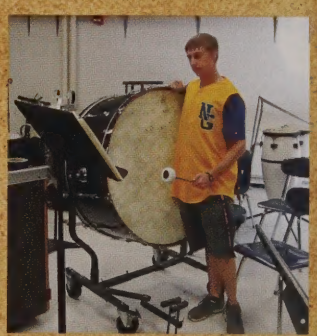
High school, you'll always remember it! "Anything that happened with the band was a favorite memory. They're my second family and my best friends. There's never a boring moment with these kids."
-Sydney Holtschneider, 12

"My favorite part of my senior year was prom. It was really nice this year."
-Madison Sines, 12

"My favorite memory from this school year is exactly that, this whole year. Despite being in school and having to wake up early every morning, getting to meet all my new friends and all the wonderful faculty that have helped me to grow as a person have made every second this year worth it."
-Matthew Tice, 12

Glad to be taking a break from class, Courtney Wassell, 12, and Amanda Monahan, 12, enjoy having a nice conversation during their lunch period.

Make some noise! Tyler Bittinger, 12, uses his great rhythmic beats to follow along with the band while they try to learn a new song.



Hold that position for just a little longer! Thomas Harvey, 12, waits for Sergeant Major to give him permission to recover after doing twenty five push ups in JROTC.

LEFT: Jeremy Bender, 12, helps some of the younger underclassmen build a shed in order to get it done by the end of the year.

RIGHT: It's potato time! Hannah Smearman, 12, helps sort and weigh potatoes for the FFA.

Let's kick a homerun! David Hall, 12, gives it his all by kicking the ball way out to the outfield players to help his team score another run.

Seniors Aaron Broadwater, Jared Fike, Franklin Sherrard, and James Sherrard decide to sit together during one of their last pep rallies of their high school years.

At NHS, the senior panorama is a tradition. The senior class takes a few minutes out of school and class time to have a class photo taken.

LEFT: Asa Archer, 12, decides to take a short break from helping with the blind skiers program to go inside and get warm.

RIGHT: On a trip to one of the elementary schools, some of the younger kids sit and listen to Brandi Finzel, 12, as she reads them a book.

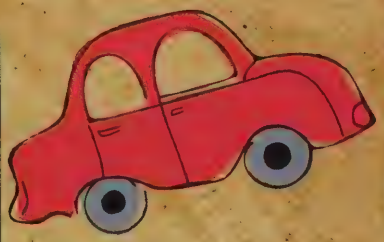
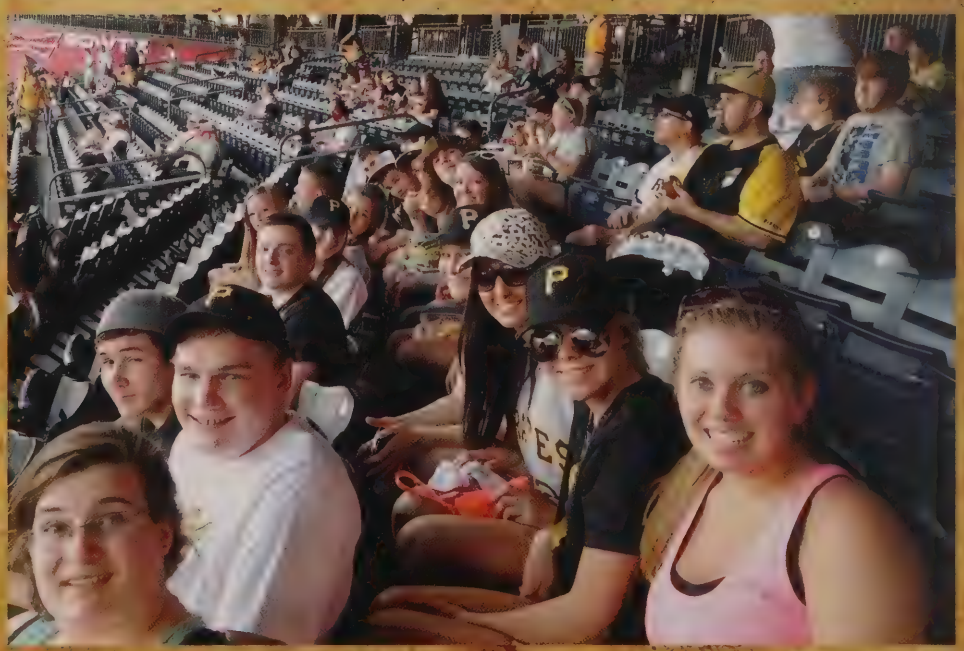
SENIORS TAKE TO THE ROAD

Members of the senior class gather together before spending a day of fun and friendship at the park on the senior trip.

Andrew Maltba and Callie Vernon show their patriotic and adventurous spirits by "standing tall" and looking off into the unknown in front of the statue of George Washington commemorating the French and Indian War.





One of the fun activities planned on the senior trip was taking in a Pirates baseball game ~go team!

Each year, NHS seniors celebrate their last days of school with the senior parade.

Thomas Harvey rides his bike through the parking lot.

Robert Hill, Franklin Sherrard, and James Sherrard, ride in the SUV while Tyler Yutzy shows off his pink bicycle.

Matthew Tice, Aishah Smith, Sarah Meyers, Callie Vernon, Tori Devine, and Hannah Bequette bathe the underclassmen with water balloons and water cannon.

Garrett Yoder shows off his fashion talent and his baby scooter.

Sydney Holtschneider and Madison Sines shoot silly string.

Charles Hanek and David Hall show off their unique "colors."

Ninja Kar Sense shows his moves while Jessica Klotz and Christine Carpenter drive along side.

Catharine Lawson and Derek Rodeheaver show their Garrett County pride.

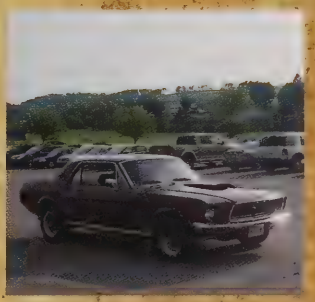
Trace Livengood starts his long road to the Whitehouse by passing out "Livingood with Livengood" pencils and wearing a t-shirt sporting his slogan.

Find your beach - even if it is on the trailer of a truck at the NHS parade!



Amanda Monahan drives her Mustang past the underclassmen.

Living Life at the NHS Pyramid!

STUDENTS at PLAY:

If given the opportunity to improve anything in the school, Travis Thomas, 9, "would make the lockers bigger ..."

Bruce Nairn, 11 "[Something that would make the school better would be] more traffic enforcement in the halls."

If given the chance, Sarah Hockman, 10, would "change the PDA and Dress code. Students should be able to hug and kiss...as long as it isn't making out. Students [should be able to]...show their shoulders, because who is really going to get turned on by a shoulder?"

Ronnie Guthrie, 11, really likes the turtles at NHS. He feels that NHS should "aquire more turtles."

Erin Osselburn, 9, likes being able to see her friends everyday and playing sports; however, she would like to improve the food available.

Showing off their finery, Juniors Adam Warnick, Brittany Carr, Emily Eggleston, Ryan Miller and guest celebrate while having a good time at the snowball dance.

Fashionistas Savanna House, 10, and Haley Guillot, 10, strike a pose with attitude before heading out to the dance floor.

To demonstrate their school spirit, students wear blue and celebrate at the pep rally.

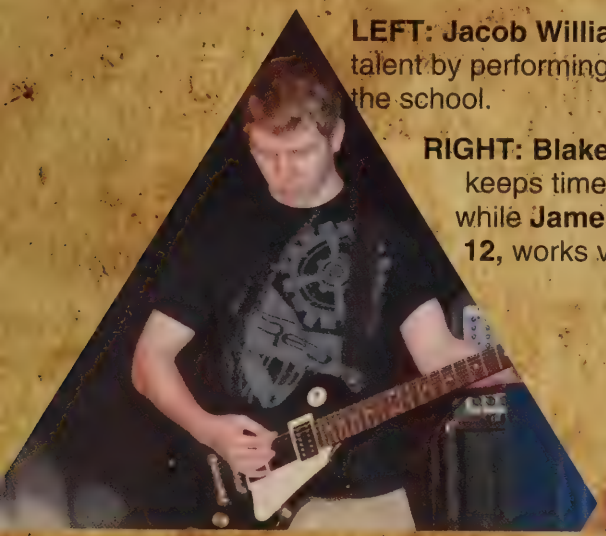
RIGHT: Tyler Bittinger, 12, thunders through his drum solo.

What do you think will happen on the day that the Mayan calendar ends, December 21, 2012?

- Nothing, it will be like every other day.
- Something may happen, but nothing major
- Something big, but not the end of the world.
- The end of the world!

Other ideas mentioned, but not often enough to register a vote were: snow storm, and zombie apocalypse

Lights, camera, action! The drama club dresses up in period costumes and has a little fun while practicing their latest production before unveiling the performance to the school.



LEFT: Jacob Williams, 11, shows his talent by performing a guitar solo for the school.

RIGHT: Blake Deal, 11, keeps time on drums while James Topper, 12, works vocals and guitar.

HOMECOMING: LIVE OUT LOUD

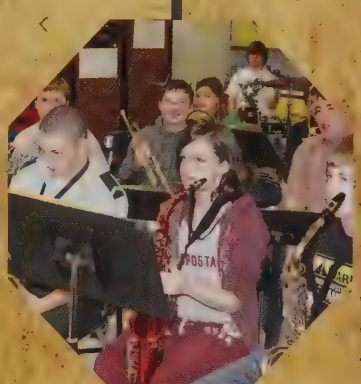
CLUBS: Having Fun at the NHS Pyramid!

Machaela Barkman, 11, puts the finishing touches on her art project. Art Club provides time for students to further their knowledge, skills and creativity.



Stage Band Club is a time to get together as a group and practice the music that will be performed. Everyone works hard while having fun working on the musical pieces.

Michael Barreto, 12, contemplates his next move hoping to get the advantage in Chess.

John Major, 11, organizes his notes and prepares for a great debate in Model UN.

Juniors Samantha Edwards and Dallas Hetrick practice their lines in Drama Club.

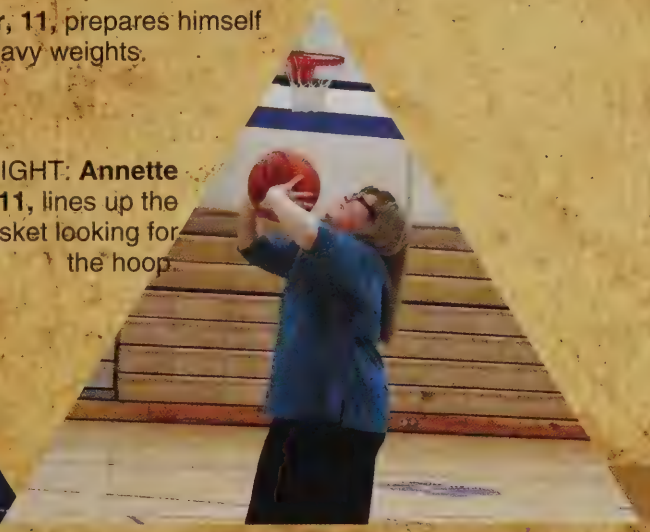
Kristen Bennett, 10, Jessica Klotz, 12, and Lydia Sisler, 12, test the health of Garrett County's environment in Envirothon.

Kiley House, 11, takes a look at the inside of her dissection. Vocational clubs provide plenty of hands-on activities to help the students understand the concepts that they are learning.

LEFT: Zachary Haer, 11, prepares himself mentally to lift the heavy weights.

RIGHT: Annette Needham, 11, lines up the ball and basket looking for the hoop.



The Great Thinkers

Timothy Adams, 12, throws his hands in the air after losing the game of chess against Michael Barreto, 12.

Shelby Hankins, 10, takes time away from her chess game to give the camera a thumbs up.

Blake Meyers, 10, Kyle Klotz, 9, and Blake Upole, 10, pay attention to the instructor as she explains to them about what Envirothon is all about.

"[I joined envirothon because] my friends talked me into it and it ended up being a lot of fun."
-Lydia Sisler, 12

ENVIROTHON

There are many different reasons to choose a club. Jessica Klotz, 12, says "I am pursuing a career in environmental science and Envirothon helps me to better understand many concepts and practices that I will utilize in my career."

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

There are many reasons to join student government, but according to Kelsey Lapp, 10, one of the best reasons is being "...able to help the school and students."

"I joined student government because I wanted to be involved with an organization that represents the student body. I wanted to become a better leader and be a part of something where the students and school work together to create a positive environment."
-Morgan Marple, 10

Miranda Nealis, 9, "Yes, I have [won in chess]...I've been a chess club member for Northern for 4 years so [I've won]...a lot. :lol"

CHESS CLUB

Brittany Griffin, 11, said "My favorite thing is to just hang out with your chess mates! Using strategy against each other could get interesting!"

National Honors Society

Many clubs perform specific tasks and functions. Callie Vernon, 12, says "In National Honors Society we help determine ideas to raise money for the school and we plan the Academic Pep-rally."

Caroline Bergstrom, 12, "Yes,, [I enjoy being in National Honors Society] because it's a unique club that is not offered to everyone and it's fun being able to plan things."

BELOW: Kristen Bennett, 10, listens to the instructor at Camp Hickory during an Envirothon field trip and learns how to correctly take measurements of the tree.

BELOW: Blake Meyers, 10, and Lydia Sisler, 12, investigate the overall health of a fish from Cove Run in Envirothon.

BELOW: The NHS cheer team performs at the first relay for life pep rally. The hope is that more students will participate in this worthy fund-raising event to help prevent cancer.

JROTC Club

Brandon Platter, 12, enjoys JROTC, including the field trips. "The best J.R.O.T.C. trip was the trip to Quantico MCB last year."

Kyle Beard, 9, "I enjoy PT because it gives you a chance to get up and move during the school day. All the activities we do while doing PT are very fun."

Megan Fazenbaker, 11, enjoys drama club and said "If I could do any play/ musical I would do one of the Disney movies, like The Lion King."

Ella Sisler, 10, creates many different characters using props and says "If I could use any prop I would probably use a couch. I could lay on it , hide behind it, flip over it, and use it for whatever else I could think of to create a scene."

Drama Club

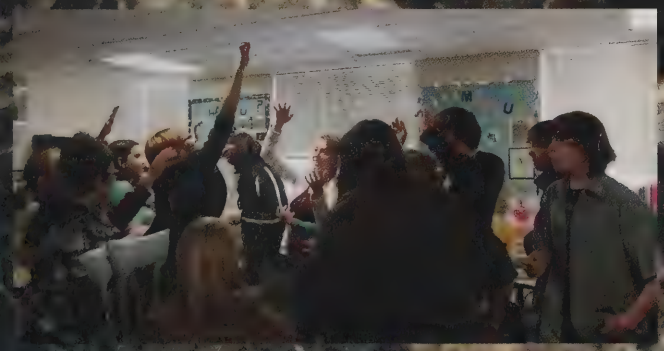
BELOW: After listening to important instructions, Kylie Frantz, 9, and Robert Lawson, 9, practice playing their instruments in Stage Band Club.

BELOW: Sophomores Steven Jado and Cordel Yoder, and Freshman Brysan Day enjoy the outdoors and camaraderie to be found while playing football in JROTC Club.

BELOW: Juniors Samantha Edwards and Dallas Hetrick study their lines before practicing them. Eventually, after regular study of lines and stage directions, many practices and a lot of hard work, the students will be ready for a stage rehearsal and presentation of the play in front of a live audience.

In JROTC Club, Jeremy Bittinger, 10, and Joseph Casteel, 9, scramble to catch the football that is rapidly flying towards them.

LIFE IS A STAGE OF MANY SORTS



Warm-ups are an important part of Drama. They stretch the body, mind and imagination. In this warm-up activity, the Drama Club pretends to build a giant sized snowman.

Blake Meyers, 10, and Juniors Cameron Newman, John Major and Kloey Werner discuss case altering information in Mock Trial as they prepare for their trial against their opponents.

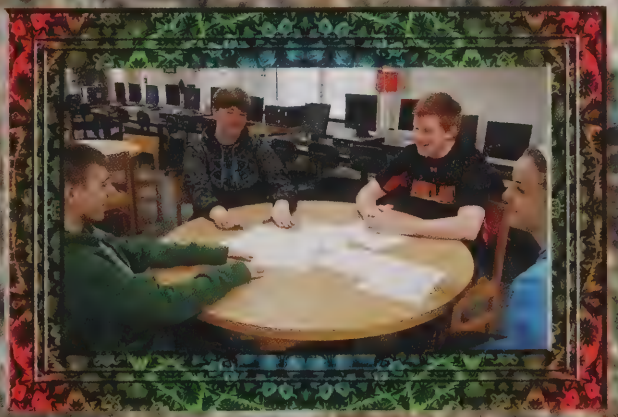
Stage Band Club

Trace Livengood, 12, was asked what his favorite instrument to play was and why. His reply was simply "Trumpet, because it is obnoxious just like me."

Blake Deal, 11, explains that the key to his success is constant practice, as he practices "all day, every day. I have been drumming for most of my life and I highly doubt I will ever stop.

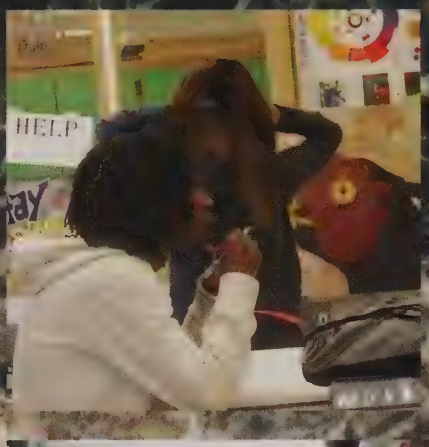
Cameron Newman, 11, said his favorite trial was "the one where I had to help out the other team by playing one of their own ... [As a result] I could argue with [our attorney, and help] better prepare for the trial against Alleganey."

John Major, 11, enjoys mock trial and all its opportunities "I joined mock trial because I find debate to be interesting and fun. I also appreciated the speech opportunities that mock trial presented, so that I could refine my public speaking ability.

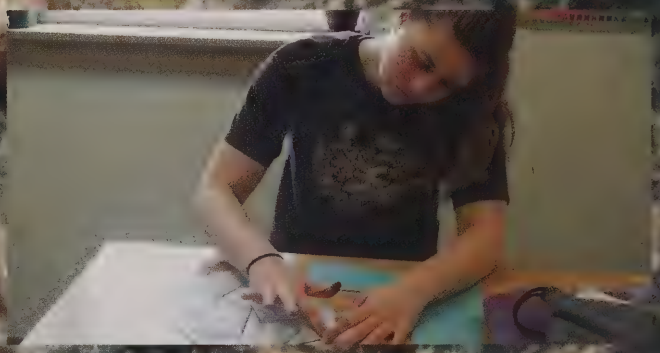


Mock Trial

EYE ON IT



Alexander Anderson, 11, ponders the dilemma of what he should draw next in art club.



Amanda Monahan, 12, draws with pastel chalk to create a colorful picture for art club.

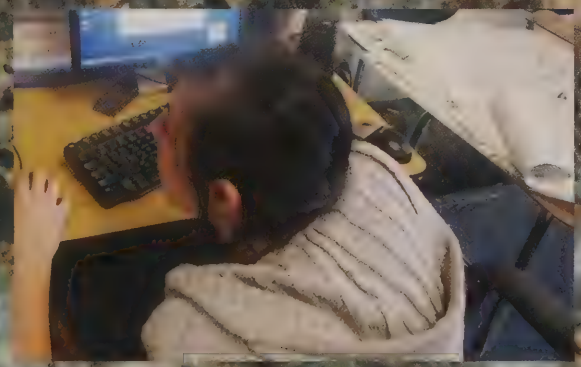
David Hall, 12, works on a Garrett County film clip in Conferno Filmtech club.

Aishah Smith, 12, says that she enjoys art club. "Yes I do very much because I like to draw and paint a lot."

"I really enjoy the paintings we do in art club because they look really good. Mr. Paxton encourages us to make the painting look better."
-Ryan Vannosdeln, 11

Art club

"...yearbook is a great club to be in. You learn a lot about your school and you also can look at the yearbook before everybody else!"
-Khyree White, 12



Savanna House, 10, works on her yearbook layout during clubs.

Gabriella Humbereon, 10, says that what she enjoys about yearbook is "getting to design the yearbook and getting to see everyone's picture."

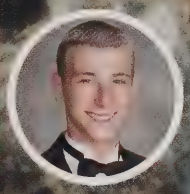
Cheyenne Hackett, 10, joined yearbook club because, "I enjoy taking photos. Especially if it is in a class I've had and enjoyed. I don't understand why people don't like getting their picture taken though."

Yearbook

"I joined yearbook because I like to take pictures and it looks good on college applications."
-Jaclyn Sisler, 10

Conferno Filmtech Club

According to Nickolas Turner, 12, working with and editing film is a lot of fun. It is even "...better than being choked by clowns..."



Zakary Lee, 12, joined film tech club "to make videos promoting Garrett County."

Tyble Brenneman, 10, makes a beautiful canvas painting in Art club.

Jaclyn Sisler, 10, works on adding photos and student quotes to her foreign language layout in Yearbook.

SADD

"The most fun thing about SADD is hanging out with my friends, but the most important thing is telling people the harmful effects of drinking, smoking, and chewing tobacco."

-Veronica Platter, 11

Sometimes students choose to not stay in a club, even when they enjoy the club, for example, Freshmen Matthew Moll. "No [I will not stay in SADD], it was not what I had expected it to be but it was pretty cool."

FFA is a hands-on club where students get to work on many different projects. Miranda Fisher, 9, likes FFA because, "In FFA club I get to learn about animals and have a fun club I want to be in."

There are many reasons to join FFA, but William Menges, 10, sums up the most important reason: "Because no farmers, no food."

Emergency Services

Hanging out with friends is always an important activity for high schoolers. Clubs provide a fun way to do so. In EMS club, Jonathan Stemple, 10, says you learn a lot of useful things in EMS Club, and you get to hang out with your friends as well.

EMS club involves many hands-on activities and real-life situations. Katrina Darby, 10, explains the purpose of the club as "we learn about what to use in case of an accident and we get to go to different hospitals."

There are many reasons to join a club. According to Matthew Knauff, 9, family tradition is one of them. "Most of my family is in the lions club and I just want to make a difference."

The Leo Club

Leo club is a new offering at NHS. But what is it all about? According to Ashley Jones, 9, Leo club enables you to "help out with town projects and other fun activities throughout the years."

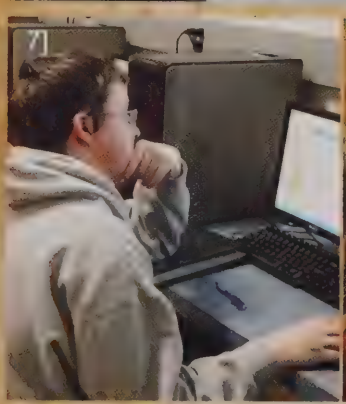
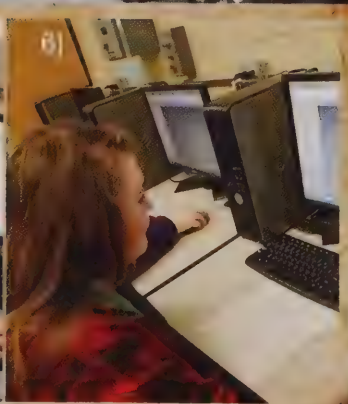
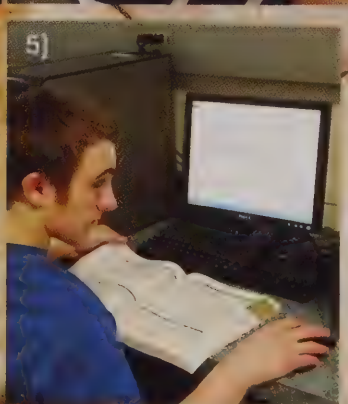
7] Bruce Nairn, 11, Learns how to use computers better in computer application class.

5] Cody Lauck, 12, learns how to use the computer more efficiently in Computer Applications.





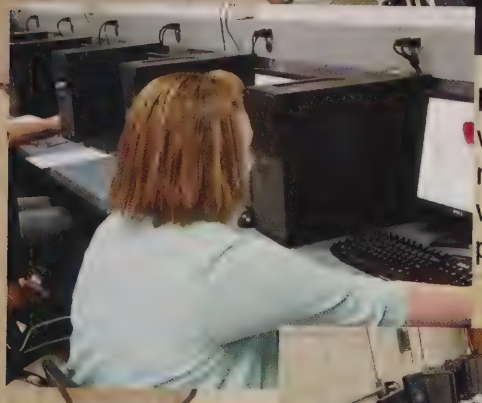


VOCATIONAL II

Alexander Anderson, 11, puts together his hands-on project in his vocational class.

Zachary Bittinger, 9, works on the cube project in Introduction to Engineering Design.

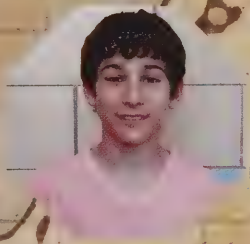
Engineering students work on their next building assignment using the appropriate program.



Paige Carr, 10, works to become more familiar with the Microsoft programs.

As one of his required projects, Noah Reed, 9, makes a bottle project on the computer.

Cody Lauck, 12, "I mostly enjoy the positivity and learning something new everyday in the vocational classes."



Christopher Parandhamaia, 9, likes P.O.E. because "he likes how fun Mr.Perfetti is."

James Travers, 11, "In computer application class, I like learning new things about the computer and how to use certain things."

Mr. Stough had a split year. He spent the first half of the year at NHS and the second half at SHS.

Mr. Perfetti as the computer expert at NHS, he handles all of the TRT issues. He also teaches several different engineering classes.

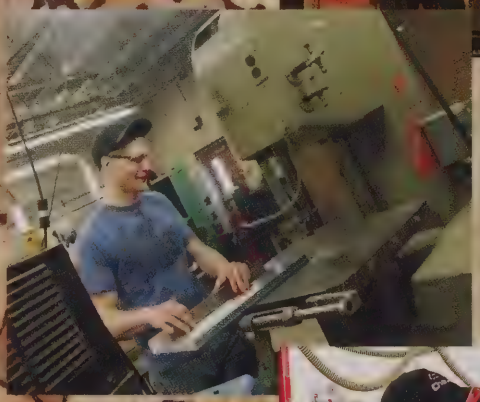
Mr. Lewis is the computer teacher at NHS. He teaches everything from computer programming to web design to computers in agriculture!

VOCATIONAL III

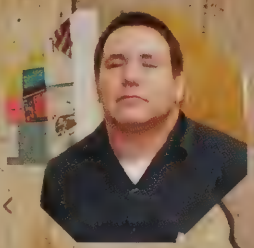
Joshua Hetz, 12, Brody Monahan, 11, Levi Otto, 12, Michael Barreto, 12, and Brett Oates, 10, work on removing the trees and debris that were a result of Hurricane Sandy.

Trent Yoder, 11, learns a few pointers from Mr. Bach in Carpentry III class.

Mr. Heitzel, the carpentry teacher, does a good job teaching his students how to make a career out being a real construction worker.



Joel Lewis, 12, is working on cutting a piece of metal to fit his measurements in machine tool.



Mr. Sisler, the machine tool teacher, helps students with the basics in machine tools and provides a solid starting point for students interested in a career in the field.

In, Mr. McCrobie's FFA classes, students get out of their chairs and go outside to work with and enjoy nature.

Cameron Friend, 12, and Austin Lowdermilk, 12, work on the engine together in auto class.

Mr. Moranduzzo, the automotive teacher, provides students the opportunity to experience what it would be like to actually work in an auto shop.

Jesse Lewis, 11, Thomas Yantz, 11, Carl Durst, 11, James Sherrard, 12, Shawn Carr, 10, Justin Opel, 10, Brooks Carr, 10, Luke Martz, 12, and Dakota Moreland, 10, stand next to the crate they built for a custom built Arctic Cat 1000. The crate needed to pass airline standards.

Courtney Hamp,12, "My favorite thing about Carpentry this year was being able to have class with some of the seniors and being able to build with them."

1] Patrick Deniker, 12, enjoys work on the truck engine and getting messy in automotive class. After he figures out the problem, he gets everything working again.

2] Scott Warnick, 12, and Ryan Miller, 11, help clean up and clear out the trees that are considered an invasive species in forestry and wildlife class.

3] Thomas Yantz, 11, drills his screws into the table leg for his table top to stand evenly the ground in Carpentry II class.

4] In Carpentry I, Caleb Layton, 10, practices his sanding on a left over piece of wood. He hopes to build more and use more tools in the future.

6] Blake Upole, 10, and Brody Monahan, 11, help sort out and weight potatoes. They will then put them in bags and tie them up so they are ready to be sold.

5] In an effort to complete the project, Seniors James Topper and Jeffrey Bittinger work together in machine tool class.

7] Jessica Yutzy, 12, checks the oil to see if it is clean and if the level is alright in auto mechanics class.

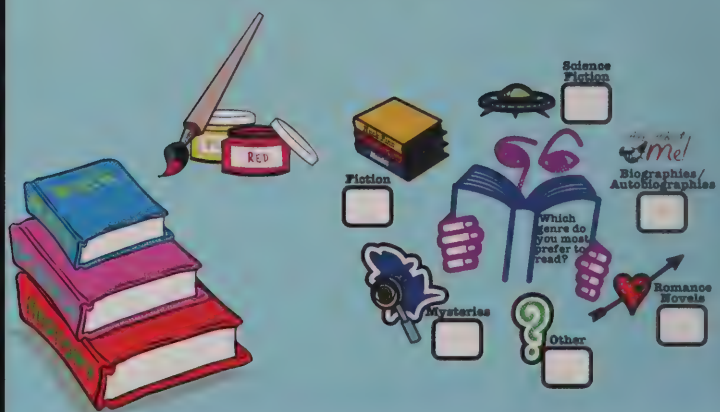
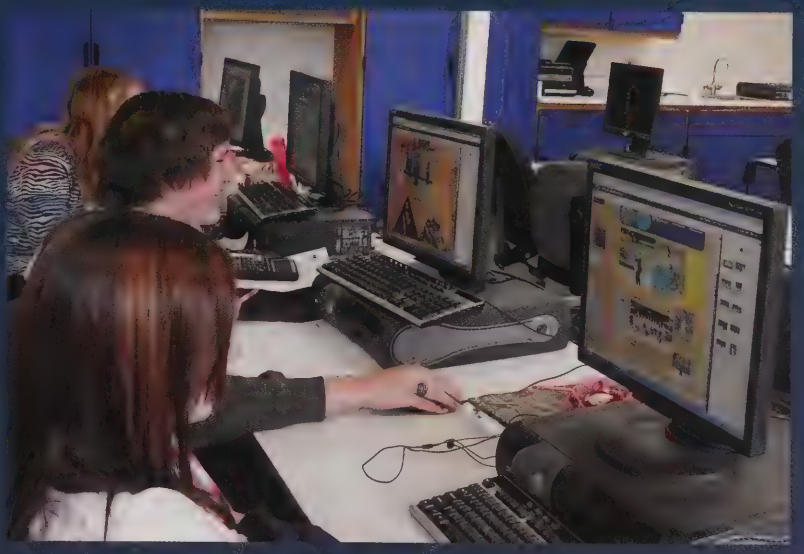
NHS: EDUCATIONAL EXCELLENCE!

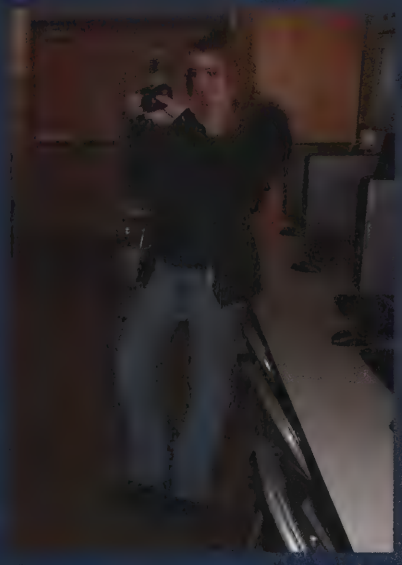


YEARBOOK

Cheyenne Hackett, 10, was the editor for this year's book. Among other duties, Cheyenne took on the responsibility of finishing other student's layouts when the students struggled.

Yearbook isn't all about taking photos; the photos need to be placed, the captions need to be written and the book created! Luckily, this can all be done with a computer program.





Jaclyn Sisler, 10, takes photos for the yearbook. Taking photos is only one of many steps involved in creating a yearbook.

Sophomores Savanna House, Gabriella Humberson, Lindsey Shields, Jaclyn Sisler, Austin Hersh, Cheyenne Hackett and Sarah Hockman. Not pictured: Kaneena Felicia, 10, Amanda Monahan, 12, and Zak Lee, 12.

Yearbook students work diligently on the Jostens' computer program to produce the 2012-2013 yearbook.

Special Thanks:

As always, creating and funding a high-quality yearbook was a challenge. This year, the staff had added challenges as we only had half the amount of time (compared to previous years) to create and finance the book. Less than half the needed funds to produce the book come from yearbook sales, the rest of the funding is dependent upon our fundraising and ad sales. As a result, we would like to say THANK-YOU to all of the businesses that have supported us this year!

Also, we would like to say thank-you to all of the parents that have helped us with photos this year. As we were not even able to begin the book until February, we struggled to cover many events that happened before the class even convened. Furthermore, because we did not have class the first half of the year, the students did not receive the necessary instruction in photography until 3rd term which resulted in varied photo quality for the 1st and 2nd terms. Luckily, parents came through with the needed photos. In particular, we would like to thank the parents of Justin Derato and Brady Benton.

And last but not least, we would like to thank all of the teachers who have helped us out with photos, quotes, etc. In particular, we would like to thank Mr. Price and Mr. Paxton for their assistance with the yearbook cover.
